Name: Nubia Flower Thing Collection Isabelle Machado

Description:

If I were one thing, I would be...a flower!

The creative process emerges by contact and observation of a seed, and from there imagine how it would be to feel the transformation of this body into a flower.

Ovary, egg, seed, and an explosion of vital energy.

An annulled feminine, devalued under structural influences of patriarchy that cross generations.

Urge the need for self-care, nutrition, hydration in a fertile internal soil until the Nubia Flower emerges with all its potency.

Under processes of observing myself, feeling myself, imagining myself, reacting, re-editing myself, assembling, disassembling and distorting myself.

About the process of disintegrating and transforming myself into Nubia Flower
