

The further I go
The closer you are
The further we go
The mistakes we know
The further you go
The closer you are are
And the further we go
The mistakes we know

The more human I become
The more love I will feel from you
The more human I am
The more love I will feel for you too

The closer you are
The more torn I am
The walls we have built
And the blood that's being spilt
Our lust is alive
And our love will drive
The closer you are

The more you, you become
The more true all your desire will be
The more you, I hope you have known it in me
Remember when it returns
The choice is always free
Always

And I know I've known you
